

The Nautical Institute's NW England and N Wales Branch invites you to the

LIVERPOOL SEMINAR ON POST-INCIDENT INVESTIGATION AND LEGAL PROCESS

This seminar builds on the event at Fleetwood in May 2023 which focussed on the immediate operational, statutory, legal and commercial steps following a maritime casualty.

Today's seminar will be chaired by a maritime barrister, ably assisted by a panel of industry leaders representing owners, operators, insurers, lawyers and technical experts. It will extend the casualty timeline and explore potential claim submissions, defence and counter claims, expert opinion reports and the legal aspects of this complicated and time-consuming process. We will also discuss the responsibilities of, and expectations on, a ship's crew who may be involved.

Programme

- 1430h Registration and light refreshments
- 1500h Discussion concerning legal aspects introduced by Captain Adrian Scales, Branch Chair
- 1630h Refreshments
- 1700h Mock arbitration with audience interaction on the process and challenges
- 1815h Conclusion chaired by Captain Scales
- 1830h End

to be held at the Radisson Blu Hotel,
107 Old Hall Street, L3 9BD

Thursday 26th October 2023 commencing at 1430h

ANNUAL BRANCH DINNER

at the Radisson Blu Hotel, 107 Old Hall Street, Liverpool L3 9BD

1830h Pre Dinner Drinks – cash bar
1930h Dinner
2230h Carriages

Dress Code: Uniform or Business Attire

Cost: £40 per head. Places limited so booking essential.

In the first instance, please email Captain Ian Mathison with your intention to attend, the names of your guests, and any dietary requirements at ian.mathison@btopenworld.com

Once Captain Mathison has confirmed your booking please forward payment to Barclays, Sort Code 20-50-36, A/C 93189945 inserting '26 Oct[Your Last Name]' as a reference.

Deadline: 16th October 2023

If you're staying over, the Radisson Blu Hotel has reserved five rooms (first come, first served) at a conference rate of £145 B&B. Please contact the hotel direct:

T: 0151 966 1430

<https://www.radissonhotels.com>

There are other hotels within walking distance.

